How Patients Are Living Without Numbness, Tingling, or Sharp Pains

Numbness, tingling, and pain is an extremely annoying problem. It may come and go...interrupt your sleep...and even makes your arm or legs feel weak at times. Maybe you've even been to other doctors, and they claim all the tests indicate you should feel fine.

If You Do Nothing Else, Read This:

More than 20 million people suffer from peripheral neuropathy, a problem caused by damage to the nerves that supply your arms and legs.

This painful condition interferes with your body's ability to transmit messages to your muscles, skin, joints, or internal organs. If ignored or mistreated, neuropathy can lead to irreversible health conditions.

Why not get help by those trained to correct the major cause of peripheral neuropathy. Read the full facts on this page.

More Pills Are Not The Solution

A common treatment for many nerve problems is the 'take some pills and wait and see' method.

While this may be necessary for temporary relief of severe symptoms, using them long term is no way to live. Some of the more common drugs given include pain pills, anti-seizure medications, and anti-depressants -- all of which have serious side effects.

The Likely Cause Of Your Problem

My name is Dr. Eric Kelly, Chiropractor at Glanmire Chiropractic Clinic. Dr. Subchuk and I have been helping people with neuropathy and nerve problems for more than 54 years.

Often neuropathy is caused by a degenerating spine pressing on the nerve roots. This can happen in any of the vertebral joints from the neck all the way down to the tail bone.

The good news is that chiropractic treatments have proven effective in helping to remove the pressure on the nerves.

Often neuropathy is caused by a degenerating spine pressing on the nerve roots. This can happen in any of the vertebral joints from the neck all the way down to the tail bone.

The good news is that chiropractic treatments have proven effective in helping to remove the pressure on the nerves

By using gentle techniques, I'm able to release the pressure that has built up on the nerve. This allows the nerve to heal and the symptoms to go away.

Numerous people who suffer with numbness, tingling or sharp pains have chosen chiropractic's effectiveness in helping nerve conditions.

What these patients know is that you could soon be enjoying life...without those aggravating nerve problems.

Could This Be Your Solution?

It's time for you to find out if chiropractic will be your neuropathy solution.

For 14 days only, €45 will get you all the services Dr. Jenna Subchuk and I normally charge new patients up to €125 for!

What does this offer include? Everything. Take a look at what you will receive:

- An in-depth consultation about your health and well-being where we will listen...really listen...to the details of your case.
- A complete neuromuscular examination.
- A thorough analysis of your exam findings and any imaging you may provide e.g. MRI or x-ray so we can start mapping out your plan to being pain free.
- We will answer your most probing questions about nerve problems and how chiropractic can help.

Until October 14th you can get everything we've listed here for only €45. The normal price for this type of evaluation is €125 so you're saving a considerable amount by taking me up on this offer.

Call 021-4824450

We can get you scheduled for your consultation and exam as soon as there's an opening.

Our office is located at Eastcliffe House, Glanmire (Over the bridge, next to AIB). When you call, tell the receptionist you'd like to come in for the Nerve Evaluation so they can get you on the schedule and make sure you receive proper credit for this special offer.

*Sincerely,

P.S. Remember, you only have until October 14th to reserve an appointment at this significant discount. Why suffer for years in misery?

That's no way to live, not when there could be an easy solution to your problem.

"NÍL AON GLEANNTÁN MAR DO GLEANNTÁN FÉIN" GLOUNTHAUNE NEWS BY "THE FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT"

A LOOK BACK

The "Altar Boys" at Glounthaune, no "Altar Girls" in the old days, were featured here in the past and similar to priests; there is presently a very declining number. This is not just at Glounthaune and incidentally; was the "Altar Boys" role diminished somewhat when the celebration of the Vernacular Mass was introduced at several stages during 1965; the initial was on the "First Sunday of Lent", March 7th? Prior to this; the Latin Tridentine had been the most widely celebrated Mass in the world since 1570. Billy Lyons, a Rougrane native is now a blogging expert, his main subject being restaurants / food and in this regard perhaps the fact that he sold rabbits in the area for a half crown back in the fifties gave him a "flavour" for this, and it is far from rabbit food that Billy is now evaluating! Another one of his blogs includes some very interesting descriptives of his Glounthaune days in the fifties and sixties. He speaks of his time as an altar boy and remarks that being an altar boy then was part and parcel of growing up in Glounthaune. He says that there was the occasional lucrative big day when serving at the Stations or at Weddings and Billy also refers to what he describes as lighter moments, such as his confirmation day. He says that "Altar Boys" for confirmation were dressed in their altar outfits which were collected at the church on the day. He recalls that the village mothers' ensured that their fellows got there first and all that was left for him was a wickedly wrinkled soutane and surplus. Billy says that he didn't take too much notice but; "mother was not very happy when she saw the Glounthaune boys in such well-ironed outfits"! There are some humorous stories pertaining to the "Altar Boys" of Glounthaune not least the time when one had to help rescue the plus eighty year old Canon's sister who was residing at the Parochial House and was confined to bed. The Canon was hospitalised at the time and one morning the housekeeper, priests had housekeepers in those days, closed the windows and the ground floor shutters, locked the doors and for some unknown reason vanished and never returned. A local observed this scene later that afternoon so the "Village Ladder & Rescue Team" was summoned. It was noticed that one window on the upper floor was partially open and the female leader of the rescue party ventured up the steps of the ladder and prised the window to a fully open position. However calamity struck while attempting to enter; the heavyset volunteer got stuck in the opening and was unable to get in or out. A local altar boy, they were multifunctional then, was asked to assist and picture the scene that confronted this young lad. The female would-be rescuer was akin to a performer at Duffy's Circus as she balanced high above with most of her anatomy inside and her legs dangling outside which resulted in a display of an enormous pair of blue coloured bloomers. The size was probably equivalent to a couple of dozen pairs of today's flimsy micro variety – apparently! Anyway, the young lad slowly climbed the ladder and with a tug "here" and "there" finally managed to free the unfortunate heroine to outside freedom. He then entered the house via the same window opening and proceeded through darkness to the ground floor. He was able to open the door from inside thus enabling the rescue team enter and urgently attend to the Canon's sister. It is said that she was the least traumatised by the day's event and there was no counselling in those days! Another true story relates to an incident at an eight, fifteen am morning mass. The congregation was small; principally women who attended daily and they each had "their own" seat. In fact they also had their "own position" at the Altar Rails when receiving the Eucharist and on one particular morning this usual practice was followed. Prior to distribution the priest, Fr. Deasy, facing the people, which only occurred a few times in the Latin Mass era, and holding the Host recited; "Ecce Agnus Dei" and on behalf of the congregation he responded; "Domine Non Sum Dignus". This was recited three times; the priest facing centre, then left to the Epistle side, right to the Gospel side and the altar boy rang the bell each time. Now the bell at Glounthaune back then was a large circular brass one with a cross at the centre top where the altar boy positioned his hand while using the other hand to strike the bell with a mallet / pom. It is similar to the one presently at Knock Basilica but no doubt it is not the same one! Fr. Deasy had just recited the first of three and having struck the bell; the mallet / pom left the altar boy's grasp and travelled at high speed towards the pious women kneeling at the Altar Rails. Luckily it just about cleared the head of one and because of her reverence state she was totally unaware of how close she was to suffer the same fate as St. John the Baptist when beheaded circa AD 30. It was very similar to the first Soviet Scud missile of a few years previous in 1953 but the propellant was not the Kerosene and Nitric Acid used then but rather a perspiring hand! The lady's name was never disclosed but, and it is relevant to note, that the near-miss occurred at the late Mrs. Cashman's (of Rockgrove) "own position" at the Altar Rails! There were two more "strikes", of the bell that is, required and Fr. Deasy observed and admired in awe as the enterprising altar boy applied his hand-pass Gaelic Football skill, the introduction of the present-day style, by giving the bell two thumps with his clenched fist. Fr. Deasy and the altar boy recalled this incident with humour on many occasions and it is said that when it was relayed some years later to the unsuspecting would-be victim; she prayed to St. John the Baptist every day thereafter! "The Canon's Car" is another story. Incidentally, historically Glounthaune's parish priest was a Canon of the Cathedral Chapter but is not Canon Mc Swiney, who died fifty years ago in 1972 and there has been eight appointees since, the last Canon to serve as parish priest of Glounthaune? Anyway, Canon Mc Swiney had a black "Opel Rekord" car with column gear change, full width bench seat and the vehicle's registration number was CIF 83. The Canon was partaking on a two week retreat one particular year and he gave a local altar boy the keys of his car and asked him to turn the ignition on a daily basis to ensure that the battery would not go flat. Now the Canon was very helpful as he showed the altar boy how to open the door of the car, where the ignition was and how to turn the key. The altar boy duly carried out the instructions for the first week or so and then the thought struck him; if the car can be started surely there would be no problem in driving it! The car was in the garage and the task of finding reverse gear failed but this was easily overcome; there was a decline from the garage so by disengaging the hand brake and with hands on the steering wheel, he was familiar with both from his visits to Mc Cormack's dodgems at the "Small Field", the car reversed well and ended up in a drive forward position. He proudly motored safely through the village and the fact that it was his first time in the front seating of a car made it that extra special. Some of the village residents were astonished to observe the car moving along as it appeared there was no driver and they thought they were witnessing the Third Secret of Fatima! This illusion was due to the fact that the altar boy had sunk so deeply into the bench seat that his head was barely visible. He went from first to third gear, as he could not find second or later fourth but he considered such surplus to requirements anyway as the car was moving. He turned left at the Bridge, on towards Burys Bridge, a right and another right to Caherlag. A friend came on board and onwards to Combermere Lodge for another and this was followed by the Windsor Hill circuit experience. The car was eventually "driven" back to base and it had just about cooled down before the Canon's arrival back a few days later. He asked if it "turned over" all right – "oh fine" said the altar boy, reflecting that it literally nearly did at Burys Bridge! Was this the original joyriding incident in Ireland?!

Cúl Camps

Cúl Camps

Well done to Mark Byrne and Angela O' Callaghan on another successful Cúl Camps. Thank you to all our coaches that helped for the week. Everyone had a fantastic week of football and hurling/camogie and no doubt look forward to next year.

Intermediate Championship

Our ladies started of their championship campaign with a fantastic away win against Bantry. Their next game was against Rosscarbery. An eventful morning incurred with the Pike being closed due to the weather, they then had to make the trip to Rosscarbery to play. After a nervy start our girls showed great determination to leave with a fantastic win against a physical Rosscarbery game. These two wins led us to a semi final against Araglen Desmonds. Again, another physical encounter ensued, along with a tight opening half. But again, our girls came out all guns blazing in the second half to ensure a County Final spot against Castlehaven.

Ellen Twomey - Intermediate Captain

Minor

Our Minor 2 squad started out their league campaign with a fantastic away win with a young squad against St. Colman's. They continued their winning ways with great wins against Carrigtwohill and St. Nicks. The Minor 1 panel also started out their league campaign with a great win against a good Bride Rovers squad.

U16

Our U16A squad contested the U16A East Cork Final against a good Erins Own squad. The game was tight throughout with Erins Own ahead coming into the final quarter. But our girls showed true character to prevail in the end. Well done girls.

U15

Well done to Ellie, Laura, Katies, Una, Emily and Abby who were part of the East Cork squad that played in the U15 Inter Divisional Blitz and Munster Blitz recently.

U14

Hard luck to our U14 squad who lost out to Donoughmore by the smallest of margins, our girls gave it everything and were outstanding throughout the entire game.

U12

Our U12 group enjoyed a great day in Tramore as they took part in the U12 Munster Blitz. After they enjoyed an evening at the amusements in Tramore. Congratulations to the girls on their wins against Carrigaline and Mitchelstown, they now qualify for a County Semi Final.

U8

Our U8's enjoyed another night of games against Bride Rovers. Again, our girls continue to show great skill in all their games and continuous improvement. They then went on to have another round of games against Lisgoold. The group then went on to play in the Munster Blitz in Whitechurch and enjoyed a fantastic day.

Gardening with Charlie Wilkins

Charlie Wilkins

RED ROBIN CHARM

In sombre, darkened gardens, (due perhaps to the shade set by buildings, shrubbery, or street planting) it is possible to depend solely on leaves to provide light, colour, interest, and movement, apart altogether from any blooms which may be produced. In fact, good foliage can be far better than the rather ephemeral blooms produced on most trees and shrubs.

In Japan, the one country where gardening was always regarded as one of the fine arts (reaching a degree of sophistication it has never really attained in Europe), foliage has always been regarded as being more important than flower.

Given that it can be quite difficult to choose modest sized trees with good foliage for today's smaller, and more compact gardens, we are obliged to turn to hedging and shrubs with an interesting coloured leaf.

A number of these can burgeon out in delicate shades of red or vivid lemon instead of green, and of these, the one which outshines all the others is the easily recognized Photinia fraseri 'Red Robin' boasting highly polished, floor-tile coloured waxy-how they are pruned and trained. Like hawthorn, they will in time produce flowers, but not until the large, laurel-like leaves have in their maturity turned a deep mid-green. In infancy and in youth however, these are admired for their rich red gloss and it is these that the gardener wants to encourage and maintain.

The perfect winter hedge? Photinia Red Robin. Properly pruned and cared for (as in this garden) it has no equal.

This is achieved by pruning (and the training of wayward shoots when being grown as a hedge) but the big question is "when does the actual reduction, pruning, and training take place?"

At a recent presentation, I suggested the period early September (just as the semimature leaves begin to put on a green appearance) as the optimum time for just such an undertaking. Done then, the plants will have enough time to put out fresh new growth, making a splendid addition to the early autumn garden. Do no further pruning during either autumn or winter, tidying the plants only when spring arrives.

A sunny site is probably best in encouraging this shrub to produce the best results. Any reasonable garden soil will suffice but please avoid heavy clay. The shrub is generally totally hardy but sometimes, the young foliage tips can be burned by severe late spring frosts.

Cuttings of Red Robin are best taken during mid-summer and if placed in a free draining compost should be well rooted by late autumn. Allow three years before you have a proper plant which can develop into an impressive clump, but the delay is worthwhile. Grown as a hedge, Red Robin will be found to have all the virtues and none of the vices usually associated with hedges such as laurel

AUTUMN WELCOME

Autumn, as in every year, is the most contradictory of seasons! It has far more warmth and sunshine than is popularly allowed and was particularly evident this year in the glorious months of August and September. As a season, it is profoundly senescent and sweet smelling of corruption, but sadly, also filled with treasured departures.

Whether we greet, or detest its arrival, it is as inescapable as winter. It begins, traditionally in the month of August, but as the days move into September and October they become noticeably shorter and indeed cooler. Flowers seem to sense the change and try their utmost to produce as much seed as possible in the hope that their offspring, will next year be more bountiful than themselves.

The first garden indications of autumn are the early morning cobwebs strung from every shrub and perennial. The handiwork of the Orb spider, these webs are creations of wonder and beauty, the intricate designs showing up readily on dew-laden mornings. For all that, it's the chilling of the air, and a clinging dampness creeping up from the soil that alerts the gardener to the distinct change of atmosphere, not to mention the arrival of oddly familiar, and sometimes strange scents.

Ripeness is the key element to these powerful odours: mixtures of plenty and decay. They also contain remnants (and memories) of a waning summer left in the fragrance of roses, lilies, marigolds, chocolate cosmos, dahlias, phlox, and agapanthus. All these, mixed with the sugar-sweet aroma which rises now from scarified and recovering lawns. (That severe heat played havoc with well-tended swards.)

Yet I love these smells, many with their subtle, musky, rotting aromatic exhalation, but I prefer to contemplate what lies ahead now instead of retiring and sulking over those lost and decidedly past their best. There really is no future in the past.

So, I welcome now the predominance of pastel shades, coupled with soft blue, for these give an incredible lift to the entire garden. When deep colours begin to recede into the darkness, pale blues and indeed whites glow with subtle illumination.

I have found this illumination to be particularly powerful with the mauve-blue of Geranium 'Jolly Bee' and the superior lace cap blooms of Hydrangea villosa, both of which maintain a ghostly gleam until darkness finally descends. Delicate pastel shades on the last Campanula lactiflora plantings also hold out well against the twilight. All campanulas are similarly endowed.

Of course, white will readily grace any garden at sunset and indeed long after. A white garden is an exciting place to wander through on warm evenings especially when there is a full moon due. Nothing of consequence beats the mophead hydrangeas for evening impact and the generous billowing clouds of Madame Emile Mouillere are outstanding for sustaining pools of brightness well into the night. The same can be said about the rather drooping 'Annabel' whose creamy blooms are as large as sticks of candy floss and equally as soft.

BEING INVOLVED IN A CAR CRASH IN 2022... MEANS ADDING INSULT TO INJURY

If you are unfortunate enough to be involved in a road traffic accident we must warn you that the world has become quite an unfriendly place for those who have been injured or had their property damaged though no fault of their own. The insurance industry has been emboldened by certain legislative changes, and from our experience have taken to treating people in an excessively cavalier and arrogant manner. Relying on a professional help is now more important than ever.

Changes that have been made to PIAB, the system for resolving personal injuries claims in Ireland, has also made things very hard for genuine claimants. Every hop of the ball is given to the insurance company while the claimant gets no help.

While there was a view that “easy money” could be got from the legal system, the insurance industry have successfully re-calibrated things so that genuine people are not even having their out of pocket expenses covered by the system. This was never meant to be the case.

In the past few months alone we have experienced the following:

- 1) An insurance company offering miniscule money for a written off car so a like for like replacement was not possible and refusing to accept that second hand cars have increased in value since 2020!
- 2) Insurance companies refusing to compensate owners for depreciation where a newer car was damaged!
- 3) An insurance company refusing to compensate a car owner, despite the person who caused the crash being convicted in Court on a criminal charge in respect of causing the accident!
- 4) Small awards for genuine personal injuries by PIAB which were subsequently increased threefold in Court!

If you have been involved in a Road Traffic Accident call O'Dowd Solicitors for honest, straightforward and uncompromising advice without any obligation to retain us. We are a local firm staffed by local people, but more importantly, we do a good job, and we are proud of what we do.

St Colmcilles under 12 football shield winners

Underage Success

Following victories at minor (under 17 level) in July and August, further trophies were added to the St. Colmcilles trophy cabinet in the middle of September when our under 12s and under 15s were victorious in their respective finals. The under 12 footballers played Brian Dillons in the shield final. Both sides travelled to East Cork of venue of Ballinacurra where they took part in one of series of finals that took place at that ground on that day. Both sides did not disappoint as they served up a cracking encounter. St Colmcilles laid the foundation for their success when they lead 4-04 to 1-05 at half-time though it could, in truth, have been closer had Colmcille's defenders and goalkeeper had not been in as good form in preventing scores as their forwards were at amassing them at the other end of the field. Colmcilles also edged the second half and ran out deserving winners on a score line of 5-08 to 3-05.

The day after the under 12 football victory, it was time for a hurling final. A large Colmcilles contingent descended on Blarney to watch our under 15 hurlers taking on a fancied Nemo Rangers side in a championship final. This was another outstanding contest that ebbed and flowed throughout. The old adage the goals win games was certainly through as Colmcilles notched three goals while outstanding defensive work ensured that Trabeg side failed to raise a green flag over the hour. Nemo did manage to keep the scoreboard ticking over with plenty of points. The third Colmcilles goal was vital as Nemo had been leading going into the final quarter and it proved to be the crucial goal that set the side on course for victory. They did have to defend resolutely for the remaining few minutes as Nemo stretched every sinew to get back into the game. However, Colmcilles defended stoutly as a team and held on for a deserved victory. The final score was St. Colmcilles 3-08 Nemo Rangers 0-13.

This under 15 team will also have another final to look forward to as they had a resounding victory over Buttevant in the football semi-final. They will play Newmarket in the final. The under 17s as mentioned in previous notes have won the hurling and football league double. Unfortunately, the came up agonizingly short in their hurling championship semi-final when they lost to Ballygiblin by a solitary point.

the White's Cross under 10 girls side that recently took part in a monster blitz

The younger age groups have also been busy playing various blitzes and challenge games. The under 11 footballers played Ballinora in a friendly game played at White's Cross while the under 10 ladies footballers played a monster blitz hosted by the Rockban club. They acquitted themselves very well against established clubs such as St Nicks and O'Donovan Rossa. They played five games in total; winning a few. It was a very successful day out!

Eddie Buckley – RIP

White's Cross GAA suffered another loss in the past month with the very sad news that Eddie Buckley passed away after a short period of illness. Eddie has been an ever present at club matches for nearly 30 years - initially drawn in supporting his son Edwin, always his best supporter. In recent years he was very proud also to see granddaughter Mia representing the Club.

He was a very popular personality, not only in White's Cross, but in GAA circles throughout the city and county. As a valued committee member, he served in the thankless and often unrewarding, yet vital, board delegate role for many years. He made the journey to Ballinlough every Wednesday night to arrange fixtures on behalf of the club. Its no easy task fixing GAA matches in Cork City with trying to keep our own crowd happy and juggling that with the demands of the board, the referees and other clubs. However, Eddie was a great character and he successfully pulled it off for well over a decade. For those in the club that would have accompanied him or filled in for him on rare occasions, they would have seen how well regarded he was by other clubs.

Eddie Buckley (RIP) with his son Edwin and granddaughter Mia after our county final success

He also worked extremely hard on our lotto committee where he served as secretary until recently - the vital fundraising they have been doing for the past decade making possible developments such as our new astro-turf. Eddie was a gentleman and he will be sadly missed in our Club. However, it is his wife Rita, children Paul, Audrey, Linda, Yvonne and Edwin and extended family that will bear the greatest loss. To them we offer our deepest condolences.

Ar dheis Dé go raibh a anam.

GLANMIRE MACRA

This month was a busy one for Glanmire Macra as we took part in many competitions to kick start the new year. The first week of September saw six of our members take on bowling in Planet Blackpool. It was not just a competition but also a social night and it was great to see members from all macras in the Seandún region.

The second week saw us enter two teams into question time which takes the format of a table quiz. Our members put their knowledge to the test as they once again enjoyed meeting up in person once again and the re-commencing of a new and active macra year. Well done to everyone who took part.

Our weekly sports night also recommenced and takes place every Tuesday night at 9pm in Upper Glanmire Sports Hall. All are welcome to attend and new members play for free on the first night so make sure to head along.

We held our first meeting of the year following the Seandún regional meeting. We were thrilled to see many faces return to us and we also welcomed our member Marie to the officers group as she was elected as our new social officer.

Other events which we enjoyed throughout the summer were giving eith Fermoy Macra, our member Aisling organised a first aid course for the Seandún region and we also had a club activity day in Oysterhaven. Two of our members are also through to the next round of competitions as Jamie progresses in the best new member competition and Aisling in the leaders of the year.

We are looking forward to many more events. Keep an eye on our social media pages for more info on events. New members always welcome.
